BOND COMMITTEE HEARS VITAL INFORMATION FROM COUNCILMEN

Many Questions Brought Up By Group; Pertinent Data Disperses Many Rumors

Following a short meeting of the City Council Monday night the steering committee for the passage of the three city bonds mapped out strategy for the coming weeks.

The co-chairmen present first let go with a barrage of questions concerning the bonds and their values to the city.

Estimates Low?

Walt Rector, co-chairman, asked if the estimates given for work on the Memorial building might be low, resulting in additional expenses for completion. Mayor Tony Gaggero informed the group that the estimates were actually conservative and that costs might even run a little lower than the estimates. Gaggero, in reply to one of the co-chairmen's questions, said that he looked into the matter thoroughly and that $160,000 would complete the building in its entirety.

Councilman Paul Green pointed out, however, that chairs and other similar items for the interior would be purchased from the general fund.

Date for completion of the building, on passage of the bonds, would probably be about 60 days, Gaggero said. Bids will be called for immediately after the bonds are sold, which will take about 30 days, the mayor said.

Dispel Rumors

Mrs. Ann Ingersoll, co-chairman who will coordinate PTAs and other women's groups, said that many Daly City mothers were against allotting funds for completion of the building because they had not been used for school rooms temporarily to alleviate the double sessions.

Councilman Verducci added to this that a rumor has been circulated throughout town that the double sessions now are a result of non-use of the building.

Only Temporary

H. Z. Weibel, Jefferson Elementary School district superintendent.

dent, said, when informed of this, "There was a time when the building could have been used temporarily." However, he said, "I am definitely in favor of voting in the bonds to complete the building. Use of the structure would not have ended the double sessions problem."

Councilmen also informed the group what uses will be made of the building.

Councilman Green said that probably a dozen organizations could hold meetings there throughout the week. Tentative plans are that four-foot lockers would be installed for storing of each organization's equipment. It was also suggested that a Memorial Building commission be chosen to regulate activities there and allot facilities. A nominal minimum charge probably will be made to organizations meeting there.

Cost Outlined

One of the items closest to most voters, the cost, was outlined in detail by Gaggero. Basing cost on a 3 per cent interest on the bonds, he said that the three projects would cost the average home owner $1 or $1.75 per year, figuring approximately five cents tax on every $100 of assessment. The bonds will be paid off in 27 years. Any changes in city assessment will not affect the taxpayer's output on the bonds, it was announced. After the 20th year the rate per $100 assessed valuation may even drop one half cent, Gaggero said.

The question on many people's mind—What happens if the Memorial Building bonds do not pass?—was answered by Green. He said the place would be virtually a Winchester house, with only the auditorium available for use. However, he said, the first thing to be done would be allot some money for landscaping to make the site presentable. Then other improvements would have to be eked out year after year.

Fire Bonds A Must

On the matter of the $173,500 fire bonds, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy gave a detailed report on the urgency of the situation. He said if the bonds fail there is a good chance that the Board of Fire Underwriters might place Daly City in the fifth or sixth class, instead of fourth, thus boosting the insurance rates. He pointed out that the saving in fire insurance taxes would probably offset the cost of the bonds. Rates would jump $8 over a three year period if the city were upped to sixth class, he said.

Water Bond

Inadequacy of water facilities here was brought out by Arthur J. Bodien, Water department supervisor, in speaking for passage of the $390,000 water bond.

"The present source of supply has met its potential," he said, explaining that wells here have been in operation 18 years, while 20 years is about the maximum life for a well.

The water bonds will be of the revenue type and will be paid off from income to the departments.

At the close of the long session Monday night all doubts as to the value of the bonds had been dispelled from the minds of the co-chairmen and they voice unanimous approval for passing of the three issues.

The closing statement by Chairman Al Sundstrom was that "The bonds must pass."

RESOLUTION UPHOLDS DEVELOPMENT GROUP

The City Council Monday night passed unanimously a resolution favoring establishment of an organization which will develop a long-range industrial development program for San Mateo county.

The agency, headed by Developer David D. Bohannon, and known as the San Mateo County Development association, will be sponsored and financed by Bohannon. It will make a study of the county's industrial potential with the aid of data from cities.

Daly City will incur no expenses, but will merely supply the group with pertinent information.

INTERVIEWS FOR REC DIRECTOR OCT. 17

Interviews of the 15-18 applicants for the position of Recreation director here will be held Oct. 17.

Filling of this post is expected to take another 30 days following the interviews.

Elman Rose, present director, has offered to continue in that capacity until a new director can take over.

Ready To Start Campaign For Passage Of Three Bonds

A LOT OF YES VOTES for passage of the city bonds Oct. 28 gathered Monday night following the City Council meeting. Pictured here are committee and councilmen working for passage of the bonds. The group, along with representatives of organizations, will gather Monday night at 8:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building to strengthen the campaign.

Bond Campaigners Will Meet Monday Night

A meeting of all co-chairmen and organizational representatives working for passage of the three city bonds will be held Monday night at 8:30 in the auditorium of the Memorial Building. Co-chairmen will contact members of organizations who wish to aid in the campaign for a yes vote on the bonds. Some 70 or 80 persons are expected to be present for the meeting. The steering committee will give information to their co-workers on the necessity of passing the three bond issues.

Health Director Warns of Smog Problem in County

Dr. Harold D. Choche, county health director, announced recently that a permanent solution must be found to the county's smog problem. He said it may be desirable for the whole county to become a smog-control district through use of the fill and cover method of disposing of refuse and garbage. He said the burning of garbage is causing a great deal of the smog condition.

However, health authorities said smog in the Daly City area has been negligible. It was pointed out that few complaints have been registered here on the burning of rubbish because of the out-of-the-way location of the two dumps.

Choche ordered dumps near San Mateo to refrain from burning for a period earlier this week because of the acuteness of the problem. He intends to ask dump operators to cease burning rubbish during unusual atmospheric conditions. However, this is considered only a stop-gap measure against the smog problem, Choche said.

Will Establish Bank In Westlake Soon

Permit was received yesterday from the Comptroller of currency to establish a Bank of America branch office in Westlake, according to Frank M. Dana, bank of America vice president in California.

The bank will be the first in the area and will be located in the shopping center, Dana reports.

The branch will be set up as soon as suitable headquarters are found there. Personnel for the bank has not yet been named.

City Officials To Attend San Diego City League Meet

Five Daly City officials will travel to San Diego this weekend for the annual League of California Cities meeting there beginning Monday.

Planning to attend the convention are Paul Selmi, city treasurer, Frank Blum, city attorney, Jim Kennedy, councilman, Tony Gaggero, mayor, and Dan Andersen, city administrator, who is vice president of the peninsula division of the league.

Attendance at the sessions, which are to last through Wednesday, is expected to reach 2500. Of special interest to local representatives will be a joint forum with city managers on the subject of insurance and torts involving cities.

Issue Breakdown On $173,500 Fire Bond Issue

Largest single item on the $173,500 fire bond issue is the proposed construction of a fire station at Park Plaza drive and Southgate avenue, according to a breakdown released this week from the office of City Administrator Dan Andersen.

The new station, to cost $65,000, will include concrete bulkhead work, fences and a hose drill tower.

Of the total fire bond, which comes before the voters Oct. 28, $34,000 will go for the purchase of a 65-foot aerial truck, hose, ladders, small tools, masks, a three-way radio and other equipment.

Third most costly item proposed is the purchase of a triple combination 1000 g.p.m. pumper, hose, ladders, small tools and a three-way radio, at a cost of $21,500.

Other projects proposed are: Acquisition of a site in Westlake for the Park Plaza drive-Southgate avenue fire station, $10,000; Equipment for new station—beds, bedding, springs, mattresses, range, refrigerator, tables, chairs, dishes, desks, file cabinets, typewriter, work shop tools—$5000; Fire alarm improvements in area East of Junipero Serra boulevard and substation in area west of Junipero Serra boulevard, audit system between stations, $10,000; Station No. 2, Park and Santa Barbara avenues, build and equip dormitory—beds, bedding, springs, mattresses, lockers, refrigerator, cooking equipment. Build and equip captain's office, $15,000; Station No. 4, Peoria and Roosevelt, build and equip dormitory, $13,000.

COUNCIL POSTPONES HEARING TO OCT. 27

A hearing on a condemned structure at 356 Westlake avenue was postponed to Oct. 27 at Monday night's City Council meeting.

The building constitutes a public nuisance, according to the office of building inspector.

Owner of the property will attempt to prove that the structure should not be destroyed.

Broadmoor Residents Promised Relief From Winter Flood Situation There

Relief from the winter floods which have plagued the Broadmoor area at 88th and 99th streets is promised following action of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

Some 25 property owners from that area, represented by Thomas L. Bocci, Jr., had petitioned the Board a month ago for a solution to the problem. Tuesday the group, meeting with the board, heard a report from the county engineer, to whom the matter had been referred earlier.

He told the petitioners that an additional outlet will be installed, as well as new piping, and the size of the catch basin will be increased. Contracts for this work will be given sometime next spring. The engineer promised that electric pumps will be installed there this coming winter to cope with the flood problem until the new facilities are readied. The property owners complained that 15 floods had been recorded there during the past five years. The water often seeped into houses, they said.

Boy Injured Here When Gun Goes Off

Michael Sullivan, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sullivan of Colma, suffered wounds in the chest and hand this week when he jumped off a shed roof here, discharging a .22 caliber scatter gun in his hand.

He was treated at Junipero Sera, but his condition was not reported serious.

Daly City police said apparently the boy had been shooting at birds from the shed roof.

Chest Drive Enters Second Week Here

WESTLAKE, BROADMOOR, COLMA AREAS EXPECTED TO HIT SEPARATE GOALS

With returns from Westlake, Broadmoor and Colma reported good, the local Community Chest drive today goes into its second week, with the eventual aim of reaching the $6220 quota.

Fred Bertetta, chairman here, said that it is expected Westlake, Broadmoor and Colma will reach their separate quotas.

Mrs. Allan Mori, heading an intensive residential drive, said their donations to that cause. A new chairman took over the business section this week. He is J. A. Rohel, a PG&E manager. His organization is already formed and solicitations are being made.

In the Colma area, Mrs. Forrest Fitzgerald, who heads the Chest drive there, has reported that her group is doing very well and expects to go way over the top.

In the residential sector workers are still needed and may contact Mrs. Mori at PL. 5-1235 if interested in helping.

No figures have been released to date on the exact amount of money collected here.

DALY CITY-COLMA VOTERS JOIN GROUP FOR "YES" VOTE ON PROPOSITION No. 3

More than 100 Daly City-Colma voters have joined the committee for a "Yes" vote on Proposition 3. These figures were disclosed today by Thomas Gallen, Daly City attorney, chairman of Northern San Mateo county.

Proposition 3 would grant welfare tax exemption to non-profit, private schools on the elementary and high school level.

"It is a most amazing response," Gallen said, "but might well have been expected when you consider that nearly every major religious group has a stake in Proposition Three."

Gallen said state records show these groups include the Seventh Day Adventists, who have 143 schools which would be granted welfare tax exemption under Proposition 3; Lutheran (Missouri Synnod) with 63; Baptist, 15; Episcopal, 15; Evangelical Christian, 19; Unaffiliated Christian, 17; California Association of Christian Schools, 37; National Lutheran Schools, 17; Jewish Schools, 3.

In addition, Gallen said, there are 543 parochial schools as well as schools for the deaf, blind and palsied which will be granted the tax relief.

"California is the only state in the union which taxes these non-profit schools and even California, long ago, took the tax off similar schools on the collegiate level," he said.

Gallen stated this week that operation of private schools in the Daly City area saves taxpayers on the average of $30 per year.

FREE CHEST X-RAYS WILL BE GIVEN HERE

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 20 and 21, residents of Daly City will have the opportunity for free chest X-rays when the Christmas Seal X-ray laboratory takes its stand at 6266 Mission street. The mobile unit will be in operation from 1 to 7 p.m. No appointment is necessary, no clothing need be removed and the X-ray takes only a few seconds.

The San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association reminds local residents this public service is made possible by its annual sale of Christmas Seals and its officials urge everyone to take advantage of this opportunity, thus helping to check the spread of TB. Stop by for your free X-ray either Oct. 20 or 21.

Area Firemen Get Together On Fire Prevention Week

A FIREMEN'S CONVENTION? Two displays emphasizing National Fire Prevention week are shown here. Exhibit on the truck is that of the United States Naval base, San Bruno. Chief C. R. Simmons made a trek with his display through peninsula towns, stopping and comparing notes with local firemen. In window may be seen the local fire department's exhibit for Fire Prevention week. Pictured are (left to right): Simmons, M. H. McKinzie, Ed Leis, Burlingame fire chief, Frank Specht, Elmer Kennedy, Daly City fire chief, and Mel Hanson. Fire Prevention week ends tomorrow.

Daly City-Colma Lions Launch Project To Help Cut Local Bicycle Accidents

Will Install Reflector Tapes

The Daly City-Colma Lions have undertaken a project which is hoped will make a noticeable cut in the number of children injured while riding bicycles at night.

All bike riders who wish may go to any one of four auto dealers in town and have tape reflectors, a substance that takes the place of glass reflectors, applied to their vehicles free of charge. The service will begin today and be carried on two weeks.

The substance, known as scotch-lite, is applied like tape and has a very wide angle of reflection. Many police departments use it on arterial and other traffic signs. Local Police Chief Roland Petrocchi has expressed hope that the material will help reduce the number of night-time bicycle accidents here.

An important property of the reflecting material is that it reflects light back to the source of the light. Thus, light from headlights on an auto would be reflected back to the driver, giving him the all important warning.

Heading the Lion-sponsored project is Til Timossi.

The following auto dealers will have the reflector tape on hand and will apply it to children's bicycles free of charge: Timossi Motors, Donahue Desoto-Plymouth, Sweeney and Sons and Neville Motors.

Lions Project Designed To Reduce Bicycle Accidents

LESS NIGHT BICYCLE ACCIDENTS will occur because of the reflector tape now being given out, courtesy of the local Lions. Here Police Chief Roland Petrocchi and Til Timossi, chairman of the project, survey bicycle equipped with tape. The little lady is Timossi's daughter, Sandra. The material, supplied by the Lions, will be applied free by any one of four auto dealers in town. Petrocchi said the material is the same used on many signals, and should decrease the number of accidents here.

THE RECORD RECOMMENDS

Passage of the three city bond issues to come before the voters of Daly City is not merely desirable, it is a must.

Completion of the War Memorial building, increased facilities for the water and fire departments are crucial matters facing the citizens of Daly City.

If money is not voted for completion of the building, it is probable that this structure will stand for years in a state of non-use and deterioration. If the money were taken all at once out of the general fund it would seriously weaken the financial structure of the city. Therefore, the only recourse would be to allot money piecemeal for improvements, a practice which would be anything but desirable.

The fire bonds may be termed as valuable as life and property. For they will both be endangered if facilities for fighting fire here are not augmented. And the increase in fire insurance rates alone, in event the bond does not pass, will cost more than redemption of the bond.

As for water facilities, no one can blind themselves to the fact that the city's rapid rate of growth has superceded any improvements in water facilities here. At present the supply has reached its peak. No more water may be made available under the present set up, and yet the city continues to grow. The facts cannot be denied. With passage of the water bonds, a community of 35,000 could be served. In light of present growth, that time isn't too far off.

At a very low cost, from $1 to $1.50 for an average family, the essential projects can be realized.

A "yes" vote on Oct. 28 will provide a solution to the present problems.

Seats Still Available At Council Chambers

On Monday nights when the City Council meets the Chambers are almost always noticeably vacant.

How can citizens of Daly City expect to understand the problems of city government, while sitting home watching television?

The newly re-vamped Council welcomes visitors to the meetings, and anyone who wants to air out their personal feelings on some issue may do so without fear of the council's wrath.

Problems brought before the council are discussed and explained in a sincere manner, and who knows but what some citizen might render some worthwhile ideas.

Don't be a homebody the night of the council meetings. Get out and see how government operates first hand.

Doing Something About The Weather

Daly City could have its own weather bureau merely for the asking.

Although some might regard an annual breakdown of the weather here detrimental to luring new residents, we believe there are many instances where the city could profit by a record of the weather here. Statistics are sometimes a headache but they serve well on occasions.

The meteorologist in charge at the San Francisco Weather bureau has announced that weather instruments are available to cities requesting them if one or two citizens will agree to manning the station part time.

Readings need only be taken twice daily on maximum and minimum temperatures and on a rain gauge. The bureau asks that a report be mailed to them monthly.

A Way To Stop Double Sessions

On Oct. 18 the Jefferson Elementary School district's 1947 agreement with the state expires. This agreement was that at district-voted funds had to be placed under the control of the State Department of Finance. No construction except classrooms and multi-use rooms was permitted and the state allowed construction in designated areas only.

The local district is now in a position to bond itself to the legal maximum again, $795,000, to raise money for buildings.

In doing so the district will also become eligible for some of the state huge backlog of funds for use in school systems. The state requires that a district be bonded to its legal maximum before it may apply for the state funds.

By bonding itself to the maximum, the district will be able to purchase new classrooms, multi-use rooms and a combination warehouse, garage-maintenance shop. When the $795,000 is exhausted the district then can apply for state aid and will receive as much as the pupil-load of the district warrants.

This is the only way for the district to avoid continuance of some double sessions.

A favorable vote for the bonds at a special election Nov. 18 will make this possible.

Proposition No. 10 Will Curb Cities

Innovations in city government and administration made possible by coordinated activities of cities will die out if Proposition No. 10 gets the voters sanction this November.

This proposition prohibits the appropriation or expenditure of any public money to or for the California State Chamber of Commerce, any local chamber of commerce, the County Supervisors association of California, or any other private corporation, association, or organization which attempts in any manner to influence federal, state or local legislation.

In other words, any organization, private corporation or association which attempts in any manner to influence federal, state or local legislation is prohibited.

Yet this is the purpose of the League of Cities, and other unified governmental organizations. Although sometimes the influence is used to the advantage of one particular city, on the whole leagues of this type are schools for better government. Without their studies civic administration would remain at a stand still.

Effects of Proposition No. 10 could be far reaching. A contribution by the city to any organization which even had minute influence on legislation would be illegal.

With passage of No. 10, there could be a League of Cities, but it would have to operate without financing from the cities. Without collective strength the cities would have little say in the state legislature, while the private interests would still be there in full force.

Without some organization of cities these private interests, as well as counties and the state, would continue to grow in power at the expense of the cities.

Harry Should Keep Better Diary

President Truman has been enjoying himself on his cross-country tour with his scathing attack on General Eisenhower. But indirectly the President has been attacking himself.

The general, Mr. Truman declares, is the wrong man for the White House not only because he has joined the Republican Party and has been "taken over" by the Old Guard, but because of his grave "blunders" in the past. The President argues that Eisenhower's views in 1945 to the effect that he saw no reason why Russia and the United States should not remain "the closest possible friends" had "great weight" and "did a great deal of harm."

Another objection which Harry now has to the GOP candidate is that "he doesn't know anything" about the country and its problems.

Now, if these claims are true (and let's not argue the point for the moment) why is it that the President wanted Ike to be the Democratic standard bearer? Under the banner of the Democrats would his "blunders" of the past be any less serious? Would he suddenly acquire all the knowledge about the country and its problems which, according to Mr. Truman, he doesn't have now?

Either the President himself was guilty of a serious "blunder" when he originally favored Eisenhower, or else he is opposing him for the sole reason that the general couldn't stomach Mr. Truman's policies and practices.

cratic Central Committee in the South San Francisco city hall.

Frank Rose, county chairman, reported that Senator Kefauver will be the first to show up, arriving at the San Francisco airport at noon on Wednesday, October 8.

Immediately on landing, Senator Kefauver is scheduled to speak to those assembled, urging the election of Governor Stevenson and Harold F. Taggart, Democratic congressional candidate from San Mateo County, whom he met on his last campaign tour here. He will then lunch with a San Mateo group at the airport before leaving for San Francisco.

Red Cross Chapter Chairman Clears Up Situation on United Crusade Funds

The Record, Editor

Dear Sir:

The past week has brought a flood of inquiries to the San Mateo County chapter, American Red Cross, as to whether our chapter is included in the United Crusade new being carried on in San Francisco.

Because of the evident confusion existing in the minds of the public, I am asking permission to use the columns of this paper in an effort to clarify the situation.

The San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, is not included in any other drive. We will conduct our campaign for funds in March of 1953. We urge support of both the United Crusade and the local Community Chest campaign.

gaign, but point out the we receive no part of any monies contributed to either of these organizations. We depend solely on monies raised by our own campaign in San Mateo County to carry on services of the Chapter to citizens of the Peninsula.

I am sure that if local residents understand this, they will plan their contributions accordingly, even though they work in the city. I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that only monies contributed here in San Mateo County benefit those who make their homes here.

My sincere thanks for anything you and your newspaper do to help clarify this situation.

HOLLYWOOD

Psychoanalysts are generally agreed, I believe, that repressed rage is injurious to mind and body. Concealed anger and dissimulation of murderous instincts can cause ulcers, asthma, colitis and a variety of other unpleasant psychosomatic ailments.

No psychoanalyst that I have met has advocated, in my presence, the release of these emotional tensions by taking an axe to the person with whom one is displeased and giving him or her twenty whacks. Indeed if the analyst did urge such direct therapeutic measures it is likely that our conservative society would soon deprive him of the privilege of collecting $25 an hour for dozing in a chair behind the head of a client who, stretched out on a couch, is telling how he hates Aunt Ada and why.

What these specialized consultants recommend instead is something called sublimation. Sublimation occurs, though not in its best form, when you are mad at the boss and would like to punch him in the nose. Instead, because of fear of alienation from the payroll, you come home and kick the dog, paddle the kids and snarl at the little woman.

Some years ago, when the standard fee of the dream doctors was $15 instead of $25 an hour, I spent a goodly sum trying to learn why I had not become America's leading novelist. I never found an answer that suited me so well as the one I formulated for myself, namely that editors are congenitally insensitive to talent.

But one thing the analyst said has stuck with me.

"Writers are a fortunate tribe," he declared. "You can work out your aggressions on paper and thus enjoy all the pleasures of homicidal emotional release while still staying out of jail."

I thought of this recently when, for reasons I won't go into, I found myself suppressing a feverish desire to assassinate a member of the female sex. I decided to test the value of this analytical theory of sublimation.

Instead of describing the repulsive peculiarities of one particular woman, I thought I'd write an essay on women in general, giving them none the best of it.

No doubt it has been done before. I seem to remember Schopenhauer waxing eloquent on the subject of women's resemblance to cows. If I just had Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations" at hand I would look in the index under the "W's" and compile an impressive list of feminine weaknesses.

Unfortunately this is being composed without benefit of reference books and on a weekend when the Hollywood Public Library, one of the best in the country, is closed. All I can remember in the way of appropriate quotations is one from I think, the Bible, to the effect that "Frailty, thy name is woman."

That is all very well but too constructive and compassionate for my purpose. I am willing to be understanding about some of their weaknesses, as for example the obvious one of vanity. Such is the nature of the beast and on them it looks cute.

What I object to at the moment is their insatiable avarice.

The female of the species is a greedy, grasping machine specially designed for the wasteful and conspicuous consumption of goods and services.

They are much more materialistic than men.

Any married man can readily be persuaded of this by calling to mind the countless times he has been subjected to nagging and wheedling demands for a better stove, refrigerator or hall carpet, to say nothing of the pugnacious way the little woman demands male approval of the new hat, dress and coat for which she has just put the bread-winner in hock.

For those still enjoying that state of freedom and frustration known as single blessedness, the memories are not yet there to bear witness. More concrete proof is needed to undermine the romantic misconceptions they probably nourish.

A simple illustration comes to mind. Let the skeptic watch a mixed crowd boarding a street car or bus. Among any ten men, picked at random, it will be a rare specimen indeed who is carrying anything more bulky than the day's newspaper.

With any ten women observed in a similarly unselected way, the picture is different. Behold a herd of waddling burden bearers, encumbered with the spoils of bargain hunting.

Four of the ten will be tenderly cradling tissue parcels containing nylon slips, stockings and elastic garter belts. Three will be carrying stout brown bags full of choice groceries which were equally available at the store a block from their homes but which they couldn't resist on sight downtown.

Two will be stenographers or secretaries carrying purses bulging with freshly purchased cosmetics, their arms loaded with a stack of magazines and books with which they have relieved the tedium of their working day at the office.

Then tenth will be an old woman with an oil-cloth sack full of jars of preserved peaches in one hand and a string shopping bag crammed with vari-colored old rags in the other. She will deposit both of these in the aisle near the conductor and block traffic while she rummages through an ancient purse for her fare.

Women are the great accumulators. They have the nest-building instinct excessively developed and around their acquisitive lusts a whole shabby culture of buying and selling has been built.

In fact, I could go on at considerably more length recounting instances of this avicious urge on the part of women, but strangely enough I feel better already.

Maybe this sublimation thing has worked. Anyway I have to stop now and get ready to keep a date with one of those terrible creatures I've been knocking.

Young Robber Gang Eludes Daly City, SF Police Cars

Daly City and San Francisco police cars patrolled Skyline boulevard near the San Mateo county line last weekend in an unsuccessful search for a band of 15 juveniles reported to be strong-arm robbers.

The hunt began when an unidentified man phoned police to tell them he had been robbed of $600. He failed to meet officers at San Francisco zoological gardens, scene of the robbery.

The searchers found a second victim, Gerald Brown, 18, of 1114 Winslow avenue, Piedmont, who hailed a police car near Fort Funston and said he had been attacked by "15 or 20" youths led by a man in his forties wearing a tan bathing suit and carrying a small bag.

He said the juveniles took his $60 watch, $5 from his wallet, a wrist bracelet and his National Guard identification card.

Daly City Resident On Reservist Cruise

Twelfth Naval District Reservists, 55 in all, will join the battle fleet for two weeks maneuvers beginning Friday, October 3. Aboard the two destroyers Johnson and Nickel, the two-weeks-a-year sailors will be in the thick of shore bombardment exercises, amphibious assaults and other features of modern naval warfare.

Among those on the cruise will be Lt. (j.g.) Bernard G. Olsen of 449 South Mayfair avenue, Daly City.

From Treasure Island in San Francisco, the sea-going citizens will head for a rendezvous with fleet forces off San Diego. A full workout of the ships' anti-submarine, anti-aircraft and surface gunnery departments will follow.

Naval Reserve officers will control as many of the operations as possible, as they become qualified in route. Enlisted Reservists will work hard to put to practical test the weekly training carried on throughout the year at their home training centers in Northern California, Nevada, and Utah.

Women Voters For Juvenile Hall Bond

Labeling San Mateo County Juvenile Hall as "woefully overcrowded" the League of Women Voters of San Mateo County today announced its endorsement of the Juvenile Hall $400,000 bond issue at the November 4 election.

When voter approval is given, the bonds will be used to enlarge both the boys' and girls' quarters at the hall and to construct an addition with a court and school rooms.

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Oct. 8—W.E. "Bill" Pitschke, 74, publisher of the Sharp Breakers and one of San Mateo county's oldest active newspapermen, died suddenly Monday night of a heart attack.

With his wife, he had attended a meeting of the San Mateo County Press association in Burlingame and then had decided to spend the night at a Millbrae auto court, rather than make the trip back to the dimmed-out coastside. He dropped dead as he and Mrs. Pitschke stepped from their car upon entering the court. He had been in excellent spirits and laughed, joked, and displayed his usual intense interest in the press gathering.

In conjunction with the curtailment of postal service in the San Francisco Post Office department, the Daly City branch will make only one delivery a day in the residential district of the community, according to Gustav John, in charge of the local branch.

The acute shortage of manpower, the increased volume of mail, the obligation to conserve rubber, gasoline, and equipment, and the dimout regulations were given as reasons.

An air raid test complete with hypothetical bombing incidents, which will be under the observation of the San Mateo county Defense council, is slated to be held in Daly City, Thursday, Oct. 29 according to announcement made by the local defense council.

Incidents will be announced at different points throughout the city, as county defense heads view the efficiency of the local group.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Oct. 8—Friday of last week was a rather quiet day in the traffic court of the City of Daly City. Three offenders were fined $1 each for failure to stop at the signal light.

Jack E. Neve was fined $15 for driving faster than the law allows through the City of Daly City.

Paul Andrew Penoski was arrested September 25, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, and charged with reckless driving. Again that same day, officer Benedetti again arrested the identical defendant and charged him with the same offense. This time he was escorted to the City Hall where he posted $25 bail. The case was continued two weeks at the defendant's request.

At the beginning of this year Fred Gohmert drew a five year suspended sentence in Redwood City for robbery. Early this week, police of San Antonio, Tex., notified the sheriff's office that they are holding Gohmert on charges of stealing two cars and of burglary. Both the sheriff's office and Chief of Police James Reardon of Daly City were puzzled by mention in the letter from Chief of San Antonio Police Owen W. Kilday that "Gohmert and an unknown companion had robbed the Bank of America at Daly City about three weeks ago."

Chief Reardon said there had been no bank robbery at Daly City. Local authorities believe that the Texas police have confused the names of cities.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Oct. 14—A high speed double track highway between San Francisco and Los Angeles, diminishing the motoring time between the two major coast cities by at least four hours, may soon become a reality, it was disclosed Monday.

California voters will be asked to act on the project at the next general election, it was announced by its sponsors, the Westside Highway association and the California Highway Development association.

It is planned that the road will avoid all towns by selecting a route through undeveloped territory, underpassing at all intersecting highways.

A birthday party was given little James J. Poket, Jr., on Oct. 1, by his mother, Mrs. J. Poket, of 6348 Mission street. Friends and relatives came both in the afternoon and evening, so little James had two birthday cakes, each with three tiny candles. Those who came to wish him a happy birthday were Jane and Maxine Warshawski, Laughlin McKown, Robert Trender, Sherman Sabel, Violet Sanderson, Enid George, Frances Poket, Helen George, Mrs. Warshawski, Mrs. Sabel, Irene Biebel, Charles L. Biebel, Mrs. William George, Mrs. Josephine Poket, Henry Poket, Clara Poket, Terbert Harper and Mr. and Mrs. J. Poket.

County Nurses' Group Names Five Delegates

San Mateo County Nurses' Association, District 37, has named five registered nurse members to serve as delegates to the 47th annual convention of the California State Nurses' Association in Coronado, October 27 to 30, Miss Katherine Fichtel, District president, announced today.

The delegates, named at the last meeting of District 37, include Miss Ruth Hembrook, San Mateo, employed at Mills Memorial Hospital; Miss Eileen Kane, San Mateo, private duty nurse; Mrs. Nona Perkins, San Mateo, registrar of the Nurses' Professional Registry of District 37, CSNA, 77 San Mateo Drive; Miss Hilda Schneider, San Mateo, Public Health nurse; and Miss Fichtel, San Mateo, supervisor at Mills Hospital.

County Recorder Office Handles More Papers

Number of papers handled by the office of county recorder for September was 6554, as compared to the 5186 handled through that office in September, 1951.

Fees collected for the period were $16,039.05, considerably higher than the $12,987.80 for the same time the previous year.

Total marriages for the month were 191, a sharp increase over the 130 registered in 1951 during September.

Local Man Files Suit For $10,000

A suit of $10,000 for injuries allegedly suffered has been filed against W. L. Gamon, 318 Woodrow, by Sam Valentino, 327 Westlake avenue.

Valentino, represented by Thomas L. Bocci, Jr., claims that Gamon struck him over the head with a hammer June 25, giving him concussion, cuts and bruises.

He is also alleged to have pursued Valentino with a shovel before inflicting the blows upon him.

Valentino states in the suit that he lost 14 days work, and had to pay hospital and doctor bills.

Cause of the difference of opinion between the two men was reported to be an argument over the plaintiff's dog, which was assertedly bothering Gamon.

Gamon will be represented by Attorney Thomas B. Gallan.

COUPLE MARRIED IN DOUBLE RING CEREMONY HERE

In a fashionable fall wedding in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, Anna Mae McDermott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McDermott of this city, and Donald E. Reardon were married Saturday afternoon in a double ring ceremony with the Rev. Father William James Stewart officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was exquisitely dressed in a gown of chantilly lace over white satin with a train and a single strand of pearls. Completing her attire was a fingertip length of illusion veiling falling away from a pearl coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and orchids. Floor length dresses in gold net over matching satin with mandarin styled jackets and face veils caught up in the back with bronze pom-poms were worn by the attendants: the maid of honor, Miss Shirley Mullins, carried bronze and chartreuse fugi mums, while bridesmaids Barbara Bordson, Mary Coyne and Jean Larkin carried bouquets of bronze mums.

Best man was John Boles, and ushers were James Reardon, brother of the groom, Bernard McDermott, brother of the bride, and Bret Caulfield. The mother of the bride was attractively dressed in a navy chantilly lace and marquisette afternoon dress with navy accessories and a close fitting pink velvet hat with a white orchid at the shoulder.

Following the ceremonies a reception for over three hundred and fifty guests was held at the Yosemite Hall in San Francisco.

The bride and groom, widely known to friends, both attended St. Peter's high school in San Francisco, with the bride graduating from St. Peter's academy for girls and since being graduated has been associated with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The groom, after graduation, served with the United States Navy in Navy ordnance at Treasure Island. The bride, on leaving for her honeymoon, looked radiant in a grey wool suit and a colinsky scarf with a smart close-fitting red velvet hat with a feather and matching brown lizard skin accessories.

The newlyweds on returning from a two weeks honeymoon trip to Mexico will reside at 2830 26th street, San Francisco. The bride is the son of Mrs. Leola Allen of San Francisco.

Overflow Crowd Attends First Fall Meet, Anniversary Party of Westlake PTA

An overflow crowd of more than 250 made the first fall meeting and anniversary party of the Westlake PTA a gala evening. Mrs. Howard A. Dunbar president, welcomed the gathering which was held in the Kindergarten Room of the Westlake school last Thursday evening, Oct. 2.

Mr. H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, introduced the district coordinators and discussed the school situation. He deplored the congestion of the schools which he hoped would soon be relieved by the construction program. He urged a yes vote on Propositions 2 and 24 which held the keys to all the schools were heir to.

The principal, Mrs. Eleanor Zenovich, introduced her staff of teachers and in her address told the parents that despite the double session the school program would be complete.

Mrs. Sol Lieberman chairman of the Membership committee spoke of the membership campaign and asked parents to again join our Westlake PTA. She said that a gay note had been added to the membership campaign in the form of a jolly clown designed and created by Mrs. Albert Wilson. One has been placed in each room to be assembled by each class according to enrollment of members. A master clown is to be placed in the principal's office to be completed in like manner to represent the entire school enrollment. A pennant will be awarded the class with the first 100 per cent membership. A rotating room prize will be given the class with most parents in attendance at the meetings. 206 parents have already joined the association.

Mr. Harry Bosberry explained to the parents that the Landscape Committee appointed in the spring was dissolved and the original committee formed the Dads club which could better raise the large sum of money necessary to buy loam and seed the upper level of the school grounds. The PTA voted to cooperate with the Dads club. All interested fathers are invited to join and work with the club.

The parliamentarian, Judge Charles Becker asked that the parents remember to vote for the Juvenile hall bonds. He discussed the necessity for enlarging Juvenile hall.

Following the meeting coffee and birthday cake were served by the hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. Edward Molkenbuh, Jr.

Gators Face Toughest Test Saturday Against Southern Loop Champions

Occidental Boasts Five All-League Stars in Lineup

San Francisco State's footballers got their toughest test of the young season Saturday afternoon when Occidental College of Los Angeles invaded Cox Field. This will be the next-to-last home game for the Gators.

The Tigers are defending champions in the Southern Conference, and will have five all-league stars in the lineup. Coach Roy Dennis has 20 lettermen, plus eight junior college transfers. Six of the lettermen are two-year repeaters.

Occidental has gained national fame in track and field and much of that speed has carried over. Bob Robinett, State line coach, scouted the Tigers against Santa Barbara. He reports that Occidental has plenty of backfield speed behind a good line.

Occidental Strong

After rolling over Cal Aggies in the opener, Occidental out to Santa Barbara, 14-12, by virtue of two missed conversions.

The Tigers, with two fast backfields, piled up 332 yards on the ground while Santa Barbara was able to collect only 62. The Gauchos did complete 11 of 16 passes for 174 yards (against Oxy's 62) but Occidental still wound up with the total yards—394 to 236.

The Occidental-S. F. game should feature two fast, colorful offensive teams. Among Oxy's all-conference returnees are halfbacks Dick McCullough and Matt Kurlich and Fullback Keith Noonan, all prime bal-movers. Despite the Santa Barbara loss, the impression remains that Occidental is a great team in the process of jelling.

Had to Hustle

San Francisco had to hustle for its 38-26 win over Whittier.

With the score deadlocked at 26-26, halfback John "The Red-head" O'Shea banged over just 50 seconds before the final gun. A pass interception by end Al Endriss set up the final TD for O'Shea, just 20 seconds before the end.

The Gators piled up 301 yards on the ground, but simply couldn't break daylight over the scrapping Whittier club.

Left Halfback Rudy Smith and fullback Johnny Fortson, who were kept out of the Whittier tussle, may see action against Occidental.

Only One Meeting

Occidental and State have met only once before, the Gators losing to Occidental's great Raisin Bowl team in 1948.

Inclusion of Oxy on the '52 schedule follows through with Verducci's plans to play the best available foes in a highly accelerated schedule.

The Tigers have long dominated Southern Conference football and are usually three or thereabouts in California's strong "middle time" competition.

Five-Way Tie In Sweepstakes Golf

Saturday's Class A Sweepstake at Lake Merced Golf course wound up in a five-way tie for first place last week.

Sharing first-place honors were: Dr. John Atkinson, 78-8—70; Sherm Selix, 72-2—70; Phil Frank, 82-12—70; Frank Heggblade, 82-12—70; Cy Anixter, 81-11—70.

Class B winner Saturday was Dr. M. Brody, with an 80-13—67. William Berelson, 82-13—69, and Harry Liebman, 82-13—69, shared second spot.

In Sunday's play, Class A, Mel Nathan, Jr., was top man with 75-6—69. Harry Melmon and Stan Sobel were second and third with 76-6—70 and 77-6—71, respectively.

An 82 gross with a 14 handicap gave Al Selix first place in Class B play.

Les White and Sam Barnblat tied for second with rounds of 82 and 83 respectively. Both had a net score of 69 with their handicaps.

Ed Rosekrantz was fourth with 88-16—72.

Dennis Named Head Of Labor Group Supporting Taggart

Councilman Edward J. Dennis was today named chairman of the Daly City Labor committee supporting Harold Taggart for Congress.

Other prominent labor leaders assisting Dennis are Tony Ricci, Emmett I. Campion, and Walter J. Gillies.

The committee stated that Democratic candidate Taggart has a record of 30 years of public service and declared that the high vote accorded Taggart in the primaries indicated his popularity with voters of both parties.

Dennis stated that Taggart has received the unanimous endorsement of the Labor League for Political Education of San Mateo county. He added that Taggart merits strong labor support throughout the county.

Taggart headquarters have been established at the office of Peter J. Markovich, 6454 Mission street. The committee also stated that printed cards indicating the official state federation of labor recommendation on the various state propositions are now available at the Markovich office.

BULLDOGS, PANTHERS GIVE FANS MONEY'S WORTH IN REC CONTEST

The second week of the Recreation Department Football League proved to be a better brand of play than the first. The B league teams sparked on defense while the A league showed some promising offensive play.

The young fans saw a thrilling 19-18 contest between the Colma Bulldogs and the Colma Panthers. The excitement started early in the first quarter when Eddie Leveroni of the Panthers passed to George Rocchi for a touchdown. The play was good for 90 yards. Dan Rasmussen of the Bulldogs ran back a pass interception to a touchdown which tied the score. The Leveroni-Rocchi combination clicked for another touchdown to put the Panthers in the lead. Then, a Rasmussen pass to Rich Duncan tied the score. The same combination completed a pass for the conversion. Score: Bulldogs 13, Panthers 12. The Panthers roared back after a 30-yard Rocchi pass to Ray Corner and a 2-yard Leveroni run for their final touchdown. The Bulldogs were not to be denied victory. Dan Rasmussen broke loose in the closing minutes to score the winning touchdown. Final score Bulldogs 19, Panthers 18.

Schedule for Sat., Oct. 11

A League

Bulldogs vs. O.L.P.H. Lions

Panthers vs. Giants

B League

Mustangs vs. O.L.P.H. Rams

Wildcats vs. Eagles

The other A league game found the O.L.P.H. Lions roaring to a 49-0 victory over the Colma Giants. The Lion win was a team effort with both the offensive and defensive teams playing "heads-up" football.

The Lion's smaller brothers did not fair so well in the B league action. The O.L.P.H. Rams and the Colma Eagles played to a scoreless tie in the regulation time. In a special overtime period, Paul Tapia of the Colma Eagles broke away for a 30-yard touchdown run to sew up the game. Tapia's runs, interceptions by Larry Caratti and punts by Billy Brown gave the Colma aEagles the defense necessary to stop the offensive thrusts of the Rams. Billy Bricker, Joe Stagnero, John Fahey and Joe Murphy of the Rams played an excellent game except for the few seconds it took Tapia to break in to the open for the winning touchdown. Final score: Eagles 6, O.L.P.H. 0.

The Colma Wildcats and the Colma Mustangs played a defensive game all the way. The Wildcats defense led by Buddy Fullers touchback and a stout pass defense by Michael Deao, Phil Green, Tom Hill and Jim Gustafson gave them a 2-0 victory over the equally stubborn Mustangs. Wayne Guisti, Roy Lanza and Albert Tofoya led the stout Mustang defense but were unable to dent the scoring column.

The third week of the Recreation Department Football League promises to be just as thrill-packed as the previous two. All the teams are beginning to play like veterans after the experience of two highly competitive weeks.

Westlake's Town & Country TOG SHOPPE, whose "made to measure" knit dresses have created a sensation for towns around, had better start re-ordering on their "just-in" Pride O'Glen sweaters imported from Canada! These sweaters are not only full-fashioned, deep armholed and knit from the finest, firmest, super soft wool (shrink resistant, of course), but they come in the most gorgeous colors you've ever seen! Colors range from clear, delicate pastels to those of Malta blue, Peacock blue, true Coral and shades of vivid yellow and green...but seeing's believing!

Best feature of these sweaters—and what makes them outstandingly different—is their sleeve length! We measured a size 36 Pride O'Glen sleeve and found it measured 27 inches against other (and very fine sweaters) sleeves—the answer was 4 inches of extra sleeve length in the Pride O'Glen! For the long armed woman, these sweaters are the answer to a prayer!

Price range is reasonable: $8.95-$12.95! Cardigans and slippers available!

For that taste treat you don't meet up with in just any store—try that tender, melt-in-your-mouth smoked salmon countered at the WESTLAKE DELICATESSEN for only 90¢ per pound. (Smoked salmon weighs "light" which means you get lots of smokily flavored, deliciously delicate meat for your money.) The WESTLAKE DELICATESSEN also carries a full line of Kosher delicacies—including that oh, so rich and different Halvah candy—cut from foil wrapped blocks or tinned for shelving or mailing! Try this store—you'll find a succulent surprise on every shelf plus a counter full of ready to eat, just "plain good" food—all cooked right on the premises!

SAN FRANCISCO GLASS man Hartley Appleton took time out from a wedge of that "worth the cost" (20) COMPTON'S pie to chat about his company's exhibit at the Western Living and Home Exposition down Civic Auditorium way. After seeing the exhibit—yes, and the show—we can understand why so many new windows in S. F., Daly City and up and down the peninsula are labelled "San Francisco Glass!" ("All competitive, too," says Mr. Appleton...)

"Mum" is the word these days around the WESTLAKE FLORIST shop—(chrysanthemums, of course) with giant, crisply curled blooms of mauve, yellow, yellow-bronze or white vying with the spidery petaled Fuji variety of mum...Price for the large, "football corsage" type is $4.00 per dozen and for the equally long lasting Fujis—a mere $2.00 per dozen!

Now, if you're wondering about the freshness of any flowers ordered from the WESTLAKE FLORIST—let me tell you that they just couldn't be any fresher if you picked them from your own garden because Mr. Phillips, the store manager, goes to the flower market three times a week—and returns with a completely fresh stock for his customers! Flower freshness is no mere advertising slogan to Mr. Phillips either, since, as treasurer of the San Francisco Retail Florists' Assn., he is continually working for better, fresher flowers for YOU—and ever higher standards of service in every florist's shop within the Assn.... Call PLaza 5-8115 and place your order for any flowers—anytime—with complete confidence!

Nice to see so many new businesses along Colma's San Pedro Road these days... There is the STERLING GIFT SHOP, just barely opened—but with an anything but bare stock of cards and gifts of every description; the BANK OF AMERICA expanding to meet the needs of its growing community; GEORGE LAGOMARSINO'S spanking new realty office with a go-getting staff; the new HOLY ANGEL'S SCHOOL...which, added to the other long established businesses on the street, make for a pretty impressive total and one that is definitely progressive!

KAYE'S SMART SHOP, on School St. near Mission, deserves cheers for her new line of "in-between" dresses for the "in-between" age girl! So far as we have been able to discover, this is the only shop in this area where mothers may find a dress for daughters who are too large to fit a girls size 12—yet are still too small and immature for regular "misses" styles...

Models at present are in chambrays and embossed cottons and sell for $7.95. The chambray is especially silky and attractively designed with a very full, bias cut skirt, gathered three quarter length sleeves cuffed in white pique. A small peter pan collar of white pique provides just the right touch for the high neck and highlights the soft shades of maroon, blue, green or natural used for the dresses. (Dresses are solid colors in shades mentioned above). Colors in the embossed cotton are bright blue or green—each trimmed with white pique yoke and collar. Best thing about these short sleeved, full skirted darlings, though, is the fact that no ironing is needed and, likewise—no starch!

Try KAYE'S SMART SHOP for all sorts of clothing, though, because she has them in all sizes and shapes to suit the babies through to the ladies!

Dick Tracy and comic book crimes are cold potatoes these days to 150 boys in Broadmoor and the reason is the revamping of the Broadmoor Boys' Club into the BROADMOOR JR. POLICE BOYS' CLUB—headed by Ray Savage and mothered by the four women members of the Broadmoor police force!

Mary Coppola, one of the matrons and saleswoman at GAMBLES WESTERN AUTO, says main aim of the club is to keep the boys constructively busy...and lack of a club house has not stopped them from achieving their goal! "We'll get a club house yet" says Mary, "because that is the real answer to our problems—but it will take

Mint Chocolate Wafers Make Taste Tempting Sundae Sauce

A TRAYFUL of ice cream in the refrigerator—or a carton from the corner store—and a package of mint chocolate wafers give you the makings of a most delicious Sundae. The mint chocolates make a sauce that, with its luscious blending of these classic flavors, is wonderful with vanilla, chocolate and coffee ice cream.

These bite-sized chocolate wafers, mint-flavored all the way through, may be used in many ways to add interest to your favorite desserts. They give richness and flavor to brownies and cookies, and they can be turned in a twinkling into sauces, frostings and other delightful sweets. They may be bought at drug and grocery stores; and they come in nonpareils, milk chocolate and other flavors, too.

Mint Chocolate Sundae Sauce

Melt ½ package (30) chocolate mint wafers over hot water (not boiling). Remove from hot water and stir until smooth and creamy. Add gradually, ½ cup plus 2 tablespoons evaporated milk (room temperature). Stir until well blended. Fold ½ cup whipped cream into chocolate mixture.

Stevenson Will Return to California Oct. 15 in Quest for State's Favor

Governor Adlai E. Stevenson will return to California Oct. 15 in a dramatic bid for the state's vital thirty-two electoral votes in the 1952 Presidential election.

The Democratic candidate for the Presidency will arrive by airplane in San Francisco for his second campaign appearance here, late in the afternoon a week from tomorrow. He will go immediately to his Fairmont Hotel quarters for a brief rest before going to the Cow Palace that night where he will deliver a major campaign address. The speech is open to the public and will not be broadcast or telecast. Doors will open at 6:30 p.m.

Rex L. Nicholson, State Campaign Chairman for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket, said Governor Stevenson's second San Francisco visit would be "the highlight of the whole California campaign."

Nicholson said: "I am confident that Governor Stevenson is swinging California voters to his standard by the thousands every day because he is talking straight common sense to them just as he is to the American people everywhere."

WHAT MAKES A WATCH TICK

Did you ever wonder what makes a watch tick? This sound is the result of the escape wheel striking a ruby jewel five times each second, transmitting a pulse of energy to the balance. As the teeth of the escape wheel strike the jewel over 150,000,000 times each year, it must be strong enough to bear up under the constant pounding day in and day out. Although traditionally made of the finest hardened steel, a leading American watch manufacturer is now using a new secret alloy for his purpose. This alloy, which contains 20 per cent nickel, is strong, tough and corrosion resistant, and is claimed to be superior for this use in all respects to hardened steel.

CROSS AT CROSSINGS

Pedestrians will promote their own safety by crossing streets and highways only at points where motorists expect them to cross, says the California State Automobile Association. TIME TO CHANGE OIL

Oil in an automobile engine should never be changed when the engine is cold, advises the California State Automobile Association. When oil is cold and sluggish it does not drain out readily, and particles of foreign matter are not removed from the sides of the oil pan as they should be. Regular changes of oil reduce engine wear.

National Letter Writing Week Begins Oct. 12

Daly City's Post Office will be among the many across the nation's participating in the observance of National Letter Writing Week, Oct. 12-18.

Posters are now being put on display throughout the Bay Area to remind persons of the importance of letter writing.

Postmaster John F. Fixa has announced that "National Letter Writing week arouses a spirit of good will in the heart of all Americans. In many cases it is only through the medium of a letter that families and friends who are separated by time and distance may keep alive the personal ties which mean so much."

Fixa said "through the medium of letters our men and women in the Armed Forces may be given comfort and happiness. It would at least bespeak our appreciation if during Letter Writing Week there could be widely developed the habit of frequent correspondence with these well-deserving members of our Armed Forces."

BUS RE-ROUTING BROUGHT BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

At Monday night's City Council meeting the question of the re-routing of Bus No. 76 was brought before the council by George Pingry.

Pingry asked if the matter had been dropped entirely, explaining he had heard a rumor to that effect. Councilman Joe Verducci, head of the Transportation committee, explained that action on the matter will be delayed until the San Francisco Public Utilities commission can get to the question. He said their agenda is full, and also mentioned the fact that the coming San Francisco Bond election will have some bearing on future transportation facilities.

"Name The Site" Contest Planned

A "Name The Site" contest, with a first prize valued at $100, is announced by Barney R. Strong, a director of the National Foundation for Boys, to widen interest in the establishment of the Boys Town of the West and to find a name for the interim campsite that will serve as a youth hostel until the Boys Town is completed.

Set up by the Optimist Clubs of Northern California, Nevada and Utah, the Foundation's contest is open to all who are interested in the project, whether an Optimist member or not.

Contest rules, which allow an unlimited number of entries from each entrant, require that a donation of dollar for the Foundation accompany each entry.

In the case of a tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded, first prize being a life membership in the National Foundation for Boys which is valued at $100. The winner's name will also be inscribed on a plaque to be erected at the site.

Contest closes midnight, October 31, 1952.

JEFFS GET ANOTHER PRACTICE GAME

The Jefferson Indians will face Reardon High school of San Francisco today in another practice game. The Jeffs beaten last week by Mountain View, 20-13, go into league play against Burlingame next week.

Coach Joe McGrath said his squad looked good against Mt. View last week, but believed they eased up too much in the second half. The Indians held the Eagles to minus nine yards in the first half and boasted a 13 point lead. McGrath said his charges played as though the game were already won in the second half, and relaxed their defense dangerously.

Scientist 80 Years Old—Still Working

PEARL RIVER, N. Y.—Dr. Benjamin Dugger, who discovered the antibiotic "wonder drug" aureomycin, will be 80 years old September 1—and he still works every day at Lederle Laboratories in the never-ending search for even better drugs to combat man's diseases.

Born in Gallien, Ala., in 1872, Dr. Dugger was retired from teaching at the University of Wisconsin at the age of 71. Not content with a life of idleness, he came to Lederle in 1944, and in 1948, when he was 76 years old, his great antibiotic discovery, aureomycin, was made available to the world. Dr. Dugger has six children and 13 grandchildren. He works a vegetable garden and plays golf at least once a week, weather permitting.

Toss-Your-Own Citrus Salads

This time of year, salads taste better than anything else, and "toss-your-own" combinations suit a variety of tastes. As the base of the salads, serve a large bowl of the flavorful canned Florida orange and grapefruit sections mixed with greens—lettuce, chicory, endive, spinach—and French dressing; then pass smaller bowls of slivered tongue, canned shrimp, or shredded cheese, so that everyone can indulge his own taste. Citrus is a good foil for fish, cold meat or chicken, cheese, and other fruits, since it's tart and cool. Citrus salads make a good main course for summer luncheon or dinner, and furnish lots of vitamin C to keep you toned up and refreshed.

Florida Lime French Dressing
1 (10½ oz.) can condensed tomato soup ¼ cup sugar
¾ cup Florida lime juice 1 teaspoon minced onion
1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon paprika 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce 1½ cups salad oil
Combine all ingredients in a quart jar. Cover tightly, shake well to blend, and chill before using. YIELD: 1 quart dressing.

Million Dollar Payroll For San Mateo Schools

Salary payrolls for the schools of San Mateo county have now passed the million dollar a month mark according to County Superintendent of Schools James R. Torney.

Torney reported that his office processed 3,303 salary warrants for the month of Sept. which totaled $1,094,762.13. The Office of the County Superintendent of Schools now prepares all school salary warrants.

Torney further predicted that monthly salaries for the school districts of the county will remain above the million dollar figure from now on. He based this prediction upon the continuing sharp increase in school attendance at all level and the fact that it is predicted by 1960 there will be more children in the schools of San Mateo County than there were people in the county in 1940.

Spraying the underside of tomato plant leaves with a 10 per cent sugar solution and a small amount of antibiotic will help the plant through a transplanting period without wilting and growth interruption. Also, since sunlight is the largest factor in creating sugar in the leaves of all green plants, the sugar spray will help home gardeners to produce thriving plants although they do not receive sufficient sunlight.
